

SAUNTERBY

Built to thrive on.

A membership for adults 55+ who want to stay active, capable, and engaged.

THE PROBLEM

Aging shouldn't shrink your calendar.

For people 55+, there's no easy version of ClassPass or Airbnb Experiences — a way to try a painting class, a wine tasting, or a spa afternoon on a whim. Most options that exist are built around medical need, not curiosity.

Benefits already exist. They just don't talk to each other.

- A Medicare wellness/flex card allowance
- A SilverSneakers or Silver&Fit membership
- A senior center calendar nobody sees
- Everyday vendor senior discounts

THE SOLUTION

One membership. Every reason to say yes.

Saunterby is a membership that unlocks a rotating lineup of active, social experiences — painting workshops, wine tastings, hikes, pottery, live music, qigong, trivia nights, spa days — curated and booked by a real Navigator for people 55+.

Curated, not generic

Every activity vetted and tagged for accessibility — step-free, seated pace, hearing loop.

The ride is included

Your Navigator arranges vetted transportation to and from every experience, urban or rural.

Benefits-inclusive

Pay in full, sliding scale, or benefit dollars from a wellness card — never gated by health status.

WHAT SETS US APART

We're not another point solution.

Player	What they do well	What's missing
ClassPass	Flexible fitness/studio access	Not curated for 55+, no non-fitness experiences
GetSetUp / Senior Planet	Virtual education, digital skills	Not always in-person or experiential.
SilverSneakers / Silver&Fit	Gym & class access via Medicare plans	Fitness mainly, electives need qualification, less holistic, less experiential
Saunterby	Curated experiences + transportation + benefit navigation	The connective layer across all of the above

A massive, underserved category.

TARGET CUSTOMER

Active by nature, not by permission.

Adults 55+ who want to stay socially and physically engaged — whether or not they're managing a health condition. Many already hold benefits (Medicare wellness cards, SilverSneakers, ClassPass) but have no single place to use them for something fun.

Launch market: Southern California

- Urban and rural members — vetted transportation for both
- Fixed-income and flexible-spend members alike (Set Plan / Open Plan)
- Members managing a health condition, and members who aren't
- Family, friends, and care partners welcome at any age

TRACTION

Early, real, and growing.

Early

Waitlist forming, first signups arriving

Talking

Ongoing conversations with real consumers about what they want

Ready

Manual booking process designed and ready to run

Where we are

We're early — real conversations are underway with consumers right now, and this is where their voice will live as soon as we have it.

Every member pays differently. That's the point.

Set Plan

A fixed, known amount each month — for members spending a benefit allowance or a set budget.

Open Plan

Flexible spend, no ceiling — for members who'd rather not cap a good thing.

Benefit dollars

Wellness/flex card allowances applied directly, split with cash where needed.

Status: Pre-revenue — members onboarded manually by a Navigator today.

Where we are, and what we need.

- Raised to date: $0 — fully bootstrapped
- Currently fundraising: No
- Runway: Self-funded, no formal runway clock
- Use of funds: provider network expansion, transportation partnerships, benefit-network integration

What we're looking for from AgeTech Collaborative: mentorship on marketplace supply-side growth, and an accelerator built for this audience.

Jaye Johnson

- First-time founder: Yes
- 6+ years in technical support & systems administration (Azure AD, Intune, ServiceNow, Salesforce, Tableau); a decade running an independent service business managing complex scheduling and client logistics across Northern California. Ex-Amazon, Ex-UCSF, Ex-Upwork HQ.
- I'm a younger senior who is caregiving for an active elder — her friend is our neighbor in her 80s who rotates between senior centers and drives an hour weekly to see her sister who does the same. She built this life herself; I'm building the version everyone else can access from day one, too.

Advisors & team

Currently a solo, first-time founder — actively building an advisory circle as Saunterby grows.
